

ANDREW J. TELESZ, JR.

PATENT AGENT / WASHINGTON, D.C. METRO OFFICE

Andrew is a Patent Agent with over 23 years of experience in the semiconductor processing and devices and telecommunications industries. He leverages his significant experience to help clients build and protect strong patent portfolios.

Formerly a Patent Examiner at the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), Andrew has the ability to look at a client's patent application from both the perspective of an examiner and a drafter — and from there advise the client on the best course to ensure that the patent is enforceable.

Additionally, Andrew has experience managing and handling entire dockets, responding to USPTO actions, drafting amendments, and consulting with clients, all of which add tremendous value to clients' products and IP portfolios.
