

MATTHEW L. CUTLER

PRINCIPAL / ST. LOUIS METRO OFFICE

Matt's practice is focused on intellectual property litigation (both in the district courts and at the ITC), Inter Partes Review and Post-Grant Review proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. With more than 25 years of litigation experience, Matt has seen what has gone right for holders of intellectual property rights, as well as what can go wrong. His litigation expertise has allowed him to become a trusted advisor and problem solver on IP portfolio management issues. He delivers practical, battle-tested advice to more effectively manage the IP portfolios of companies both large and small.

Matt has argued and won claims before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri and district courts around the country. One of two patent attorneys on the committee to draft the Local Patent Rules for the Eastern District of Missouri, which were adopted in 2011, Matt is frequently retained to serve as local counsel in the district.

KEY MATTERS

- Lead counsel in the Proxyconn v. Microsoft case, which marked the first time the Federal Circuit reversed a PTAB Final Written Decision in an IPR
- Lead district court counsel in the Octane Fitness v. Icon Health & Fitness case, developing the factual record that ultimately led the Supreme Court to change the standard for the award of fees in a patent case and an ultimate award of fees by the district court for our client
- Secured a favorable settlement on behalf of a client that led to the dismissal of a lawsuit and four co-pending IPRs. The lawsuit involved sixteen patents related to field programmable gate arrays (FPGA) used in high-speed processing of financial market data.
- Jury verdict of “willful” utility patent infringement, “willful” copyright infringement and an award of attorney fees

- Jury verdict of trade secret misappropriation and an award of attorney fees
- Jury verdict of design patent infringement
- Seven figure settlement for the client-defendant in a utility patent infringement action
- Numerous settlements after Markman hearings, dispositive motions or other case developments that were significant successes for our clients
- Experience in resolving international intellectual property disputes, including in China, Korea, Taiwan, Europe and Japan
- Obtained arbitrator ruling on behalf of client-plaintiff that included seven-figure damages award, above industry average royalty moving forward, and attorney fees
- Convinced the plaintiff in a trademark infringement lawsuit to settle contingent upon payment of client-defendant's attorney fees
- Defense verdict in false advertising case
